Coal Miners Fight Disease With March

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a quiet counterpoint to the hoopla of Independence Day, 1,000 coal miners from the pitted hills of Appalachia are planning a march to the steps of the Jefferson Memorial to dramatize their fight against the dreaded "black lung" disease.

No picketing, no talks by union men or politicians are on the schedule. The only speakers would be three men of the Physicians Committee for Miners Health and Safety.

"Jefferson once said there should be a social revolution once every 20 years if the vested interests gain too much control," said Dr. I. E. Buff, a committee member from Charleston, W. Va.

"He also said that all men are created equal, but somehow, somewhere, someone has forgotten that coal miners are human," Buff said.

What the miners want is a tough mine health safety law and compensation for "black lung" disease said to afflict about 50,000 miners. They may get legislative action before summer's end.

Pending before the House and Senate are several bills that would, for the first time establish rules on permissible dust levels in all coal mines. Dust is blamed for the lung disease and some explosions.

The proposed legislation has been spurred by constant attention focused on the plight of the coal miners since 78 were killed in an explosion and fire last November in Farmington, W. Va.

Critics have accused both the industry and the United Mine Workers union of doing too little and being too late for the safety and welfare of the miners.

It was Buff who pulled West Virginia's 40,000 miners out of the pits for three weeks in February to force the state legislature into passing a bill granting compensation for pneumoconiosis, or black lung.

Buff and the physicians committee, working independently of the union, are now organizing similar movements throughout the coal fields.

A congressional source said the Senate Labor Committee is ready with a tough mine safety bill supported by the administration.

Violence Again Greeted Rockefeller

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Firecrackers and scattered gunfire resounded through the almost deserted streets of Santo Domingo Wednesday night as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller attended a dinner in his honor at the National Palace.

After meeting with Dominican leaders today, the New York governor leaves for Kingston, Jamaica, the next stop on his Latin American fact-finding tour for President Nixon.

Despite the most extensive security measures since the 1965 Dominican civil war, occasional shots could be heard in various parts of the capital, but no casualties or damage were reported.

Streets in the downtown area, stronghold of the constitutional rebel forces during the 1965 revolt, were empty Wednesday night. Coffee shops, restaurants and stores—usually open at night—were shuttered.

George Washington Avenue along the sea, usually clogged with people seeking a respite from the summer heat, was dark and deserted except for armed patrols.

Some of the few Dominicans in the street said the shutdown was in "retribution" of Rockefeller's visit, but signs of trouble and armed patrols often have emptied the city's streets in politically tense moments.

headquarters said, and 1,331 are listed as missing, captured or interned.

The U.S. Command said 523,552 enemy have been reported killed by allied forces since Jan. 1, 1961.

By unofficial count, 13,015 Americans have been killed in action since preliminary Vietnam peace talks began in Paris May 13, 1968. Of that total, 6,809 died in the period since South Vietnam agreed to join the talks last Dec. 7.

South Vietnamese casualties during those periods are running ahead of American losses — 16,958 government troops killed in action since May 13, 1968, with 8,759 of those deaths occurring since Dec. 7.

A Vietnamese government communique issued with its weekly casualty summary said enemy activity last week decreased 41 per cent from the previous week, with 224 actions reported. Most of these were shelling, it said.

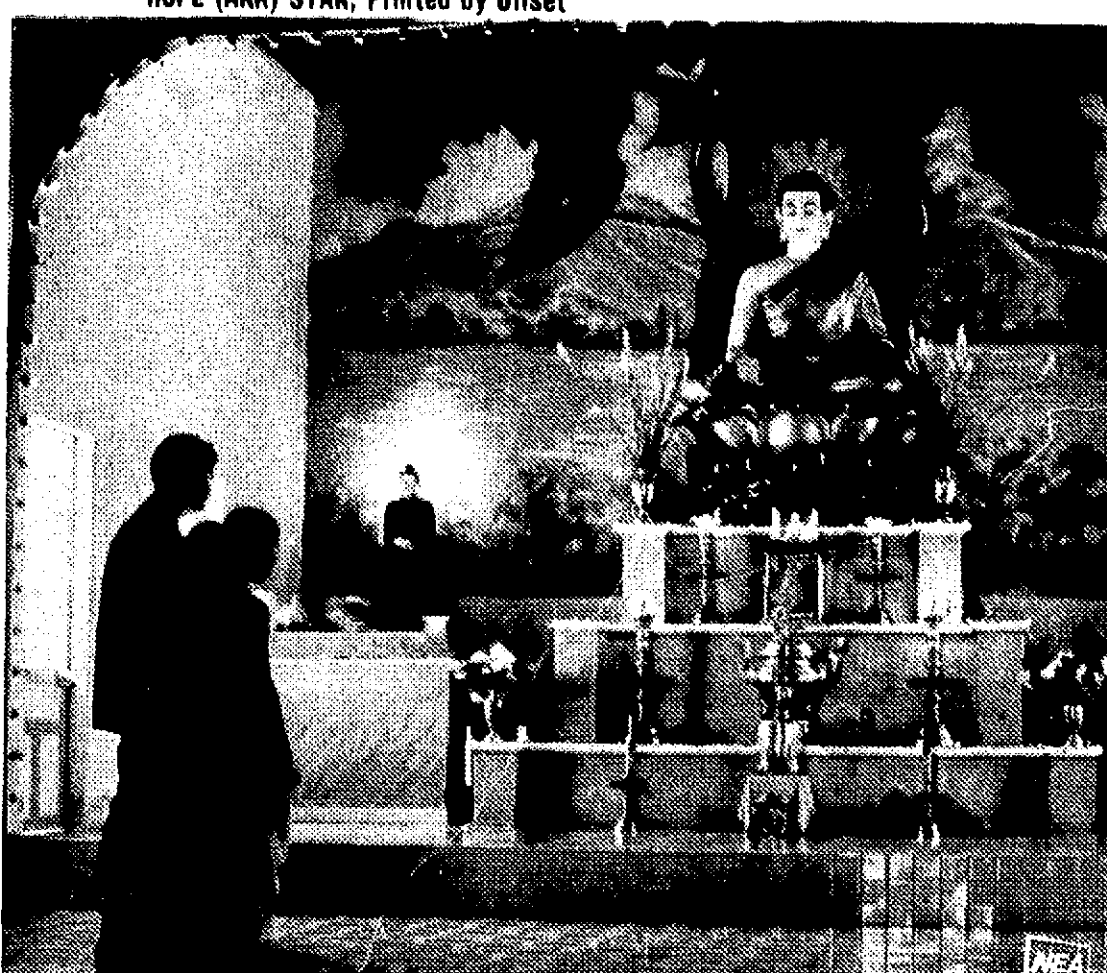

The communique said action was now at a "normal level," while U.S. spokesmen are calling it a "lull."

The number of American dead last week was the lowest since the week ending May 10, when 184 U.S. personnel were killed in action. In the next week ending May 17, the death toll jumped to 430 as the Vietnam war hit another of its periodic activity peaks.

The lowest number of Americans killed in a week so far this year was 101 in the reporting period that ended Jan. 4.

U.S. headquarters also reported another increase in the number of American military personnel in South Vietnam—539,500 troops as compared to 537,500 listed at the end of the previous week. The American command terms such changes "administrative."

sentatives of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong he was not speaking in behalf of the U.S. government.

Byrd, said if Lodge approved the session, he assumed other senators might also arrange such meetings.

"Are we going to attempt to have individual negotiations with representatives of the enemy in Paris?" Byrd asked.

The Virginia Democrat, in questioning whether such sessions would serve the nation's best interests said "we are still in a very difficult and precarious position."

McGovern said the meeting reinforced his views that the United States must start a "systematic withdrawal of all of our troops" and stop supporting the regime of South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu.

McGovern's Paris meeting drew praise from several other Democratic war critics who said they see no change between the policies of the Johnson and the Nixon administrations.

"We have waited for some indication of a substantial change in the policy that led us into the morass," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. "I too have failed to detect this change."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also agreed.

But Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., criticized McGovern, saying that "if we were to precipitously pull back . . . the consequences for a couple of million people in South Vietnam would be so great."

The main conclusion in McGovern's speech was the "So long as we cling to our military policy of maximum pressure and our political embrace of Gen. Thieu, the negotiations in Paris are a sham and a delusion."

S. State Was Discriminatory, U.S. Claims

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Southern State College was discriminatory in its treatment of a campus organization, the state Advisory Committee to the United States Commission on Civil Rights says.

The committee, making a report to the federal commission, was largely critical of the Southern State administration but it said the administration had taken some progressive steps "toward a healthy relationship between students and the college faculty and administration."

The report said Imon E. Bruce, the Southern State president, made unwarranted assumptions in taking action against the student group, Students United for Rights and Equality. The action included revoking SURE's charter because it failed to rescind an invitation extended to two representatives of the Southern Student Organizing Committee.

"The committee sees, in Dr. Bruce's personal involvement in a student-college administration matter which might well have been left to his subordinates, a degree of concern which a clearer understanding of these young persons would have eliminated," the committee report said.

The committee urged Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to work with trustees of all state-supported colleges and universities to draw a uniform policy on student activities. The committee said the policy should assure students rights guaranteed by the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The report recommended that all state-supported colleges and universities require campus-related organizations to adopt a broad antidiscrimination policy. The recommendation was that the organizations be required to make a nondiscriminatory statement before they would be permitted to post notices of services or facilities on college campuses.

apart from watching developments, is to ask North Vietnamese peace negotiators in Paris. Rogers said this would be done "when the right time comes . . . we do not attach too much significance to it at this time."

On the North Vietnamese infiltration level, Rogers said "We are not quite sure what it means except that we know pretty conclusively that there has been a reduction in the infiltration in the last two months."

At the Defense Department, however, military authorities tended to discount the significance of the reported drop. They said the total of North Vietnamese forces moving through the jungle trails normally varies from month to month.

Noting that figures of the enemy troop flow are gathered slowly from various sources, including prisoners, one officer commented that when more complete information on infiltration is available "We are not sure that it will drop off."

The military informants said they estimated movement of enemy troops into South Vietnam during the first half of the year averaged 8,000 to 10,000 men a month. They said North Vietnam's aim apparently has been to maintain about 100,000 fighting men in the South by constantly replacing casualties.

Fulbright Tries to Hold Back Arms Nominees

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright is trying to turn the tables on President Nixon by bucking administration nominees who support deployment of Safeguard antiballistic missiles—ABMs.

At Fulbright's direction the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he heads has passed over Nixon's nomination of William J. Casey as a member of the General Advisory Committee of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Casey, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Peace with Security, is leading a publicity campaign for the administration ABM program which Fulbright strongly opposes.

All 15 appointees to the agency got caught in the same hold order.

In addition, Fulbright said he expects to recall Spurgeon M. Keeny Jr., chosen for assistant director of the disarmament agency.

President Nixon told an April news conference he had decided not to appoint Dr. Franklin Long of Cornell University as head of the National Science Foundation because of the latter's opposition to ABM.

While Fulbright didn't say so, it seemed obvious to his colleagues the Arkansas Democrat is of a mind to make the road difficult for appointees who get out in front in support of ABM, an issue that will come before the Senate after the July 4 recess.

Fulbright said he wants to explore "the published views" of Casey. The chairman made it clear he was concerned about a newspaper advertisement in which Casey's committee said a public opinion poll showed 84 per cent of Americans support ABM. Fulbright questions that assessment.

Casey, in putting out an appeal Wednesday for citizens to write their senators and congressmen, said a 10 per cent minority was stimulating mail against ABM.

Fulbright's quarrel with Keeny is over the latter's testimony at a committee hearing that he favors continuation of work on both offensive and defensive weapons.

Fulbright announced he was going to oppose the Keeny nomination. He temporarily withheld

Reds Ask Right to Build Naval Base in India

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An authoritative Asian diplomatic source says the Soviet Union has asked India for permission to establish a naval base which could dominate shipping lanes to all of East Asia and the western Pacific.

So far, the source reported, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India has resisted the request for a Soviet fleet base in the Andaman Islands, astride the Bay of Bengal.

The source did not say how extensive a military base the Soviets are proposing for the islands, which were seized by the Japanese early in World War II because of their location.

A gaudaman base could play a key role in Moscow's newly proposed collective security system for the containment of mainland China, Soviet diplomats were said to have emphasized in their proposal to India.

The Asian security arrangement was first mentioned publicly June 8 by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet party first secretary, in his opening address to a world Communist conference in Moscow.

The Soviet proposal has aroused great curiosity here and in other world capitals ever since. Secretary of State William P. Rogers told newsmen Wednesday the United States has inquired about the Soviet plan from Russian diplomats but "so far they have not given us any assistance."

Judgment on Casey until the latter testifies.

Water Short, Mayor Asks Cooperation

Mayor Frank Douglas has asked that all waters users curtail all outside use of water until the water department has a chance to build up some reserve, which the dept. has estimated will take two days. He said that the situation was critical, and that if users didn't voluntarily cooperate, such curtailment would have to be enforced. The supply was so low all day Wednesday that the city's fire protection was in danger.

Due to a large main break Tuesday night the system began the day Wednesday without any reserve. They were able to maintain pressure until about 6 p.m. when the heavy use almost drained the system. Some areas were without any pressure for over two hours. Estimate of the loss Tuesday night was nearly a million gallons. Shifting soil, due to dry weather, has been responsible for five major main breaks during the past two weeks. Extremely dry weather taxes the system almost to its limits and serious main breaks at such times creates serious conditions.

Mayor Douglas said the Police have been asked to check for outdoor use during this emergency, and ask the people to cooperate, since it imperative that some water reserve for fire protection.

U.S. Eyeing Cutback in Fighting as Sign Enemy Slowing War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is looking for some sign that the recent sharp drop in combat and the reported cutback in North Vietnamese infiltration into the South mean Hanoi is deliberately slowing down the war.

But officials are not sure they will get such an indication. Secretary of State William P. Rogers suggests these developments may be due to some "change of plans" by the enemy command. And he has held open the possibility they could lead to increased U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam when President Nixon reviews his plans next month.

But Rogers also told a news conference Wednesday the decline in enemy activities could be due to manpower supply problems or to a regrouping of forces for new attacks.

Other officials say privately a See U.S. EYEING (on page two)

Casualties in War Lowest in 7 Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. headquarters reported the lowest American death toll in seven weeks today—241 Americans killed in action in Vietnam last week ending at midnight Saturday.

A few hours before the casualty report was issued U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers said in Washington he was told by Defense Secretary Melvin Laird: "Last week we had the lowest level in combat activity in Vietnam in a long time—possibly during the whole war."

The 241 toll was six fewer than the preceding week. The wounded total was 1,674, compared to 1,686 Americans wounded in the week before.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported government losses last week were 446 men killed and 804 wounded, as compared with 474 killed and 1,496 wounded in the previous week.

The two commands said 3,333 enemy were reported killed last week, a marked drop from 3,988 slain in the previous seven-day reporting period.

The latest casualty counts raised to 36,866 the number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961. Another 236,563 Americans have been wounded in that period.

Enemy to Release 3, Allow Gifts

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam announced today it will release three American prisoners in honor of American Independence Day and allow other American POWs to receive gifts from their families in observance of Independence Day.

Brief broadcasts by Radio Hanoi monitored in Tokyo and Hong Kong did not specifically say the prisoners would be released July 4. They also did not say where the men would be freed, nor were they identified.

But Tokyo monitors said Radio Hanoi spoke of "Americans captured in North Vietnam," indicating they were U.S. pilots who had been shot down.

North Vietnam last freed three U.S. pilots Aug. 2 in Vientiane, Laos. In the past North Vietnam has allowed American POWs to receive gifts on special holidays like Christmas.

The announcement came as U.S. military men were puzzling over one of the lowest levels of fighting in the war and trying to determine just how many North Vietnamese had infiltrated into South Vietnam or withdrawn.

American officers said three North Vietnamese regiments, the 36th, 138th and 27th, have pulled back across the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone into North Vietnam. But they said the Communist Command still has three regiments in the northern portion of South Vietnam, and speculated the pullback, may simply mean new regiments will replace them.

Four enemy regiments also have pulled back from the Central Highlands around Ben Het, perhaps to get replacements after the recent battle there, the officers said.

Along the southern half of the Cambodian border, northwest of Saigon, a regiment of the North Vietnamese 7th Division reportedly has pulled back west of Loc Ninh. But spokesmen noted units of the 7th, 1st and 9th North Vietnamese divisions have been continually maneuvering in the critical 3rd Corps area.

In one 10-day period, said the spokesmen, that same enemy regiment operating west of Loc Ninh went back and forth across the border three times. Some said it appeared to be feeling for a soft spot in allied positions.

A similar situation was reported west of Tay Ninh City, where the enemy's 9th Division has been crossing and recrossing the border for several months.

In the Mekong Delta far to the south, U.S. intelligence indicated North Vietnam's old 273rd Regiment has just returned to what is known as the Seven Mountain area after months of absence.

The latest military intelligence indicates 10,000 North Vietnamese troops infiltrated down the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos and Cambodia last month. Spokesmen said about 63,000 enemy have come down the trail since the first of the year.

This appeared to conflict with a statement in Washington by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who said "we know pretty conclusively" that the infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into South Vietnam has declined.

"I'm not disagreeing with anything Rogers said," said one U.S. source. "Washington is talking about the number of enemy troops being put into the pipeline, wherever the hell that starts. We are talking about what is actually coming into the country. This is possibly the difference in what Rogers is talking about."

Secret Peace Meets Are Attacked

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern's secret meeting with top Communist negotiators has come under attack from a fellow Democrat who questioned whether it is in the nation's interest "to meet with the enemy in time of war."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia raised the issue after McGovern, long a critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam, disclosed he had met for 10 hours May 23 in Paris with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives.

Answering questions about the propriety of the meeting, McGovern said: "These same considerations went through my mind for many, many months." But he said he decided to go ahead with the meeting after conferring with the State Department and chief U.S. peace negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

"I wouldn't be able to rest if I thought anything I'd done had cost the life of a single American boy or prolonged the war," the South Dakota Democrat said in defending his action.

McGovern told of the secret meeting Wednesday in a Senate speech, and he elaborated in a press briefing and a series of exchanges with fellow senators during and after his formal talk.

He said he arranged the session to get a better understanding of why the war and the killing goes on. The senator emphasized he only asked questions and made clear to the representatives of the two sides.

Going Underground in New York Can Bring Exciting Experiences

By JOE WING
NEW YORK (AP) I went underground today, as I do about 250 days in the year.

Most New Yorkers who travel to work on the subway spend a lot of their lives underground. Without half trying, I can put in a whole working day, and the night too if so minded, without exposing myself to the rigor of Manhattan's climate.

Riding a train under the East River I step out on a platform about 40 feet below street level and, for all I know, not much above sea level.

So I climb the stairs to the cavernous station and join the ever-moving procession toward Seventh Avenue. Of course I could reverse my field and go to the Eighth Avenue subway line or even to Madison Square Garden.

But I settle into my usual groove—all of us here have our private grooves of greater or lesser depth—and, still underground, cross beneath the Seventh Avenue line and enter the block long, dingy passage leading to Sixth Avenue.

You don't fight the crowd, you move with it. You don't scan oncoming faces or try to remember them but dwell on your own inward thoughts. You just clump along for awhile, descend more stairs, and push into the F Train or D Train as one of the

Two Junk Dealers Find Picasso Paintings That Are Worth $720,000

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Junk man Eddie Mitchell was cleaning out an empty shop basement when he discovered 25 paintings in a suitcase wrapped in an old blue bedspread. First he wanted to burn them; then he unsuccessfully tried to sell them for $1 apiece.

Finally he took one to an art shop "to see if it was worth anything."

It was one of Picasso's best known works, "Weeping Woman," worth an estimated $200,000. Besides five other Picassos there were others by Marc Chagall, Georges Braque, Max Ernst and Miro. The 25 paintings were worth $720,000.

Mitchell, 30, told how he and a fellow worker, Aubrey Worman, found the paintings while clearing rubbish from an old building in a West London suburb Tuesday.

"We thought they were rubbish and my mate Aub said: 'Throw them out, they're no good.' I handed the suitcase to Aub and said: 'Throw them on the pile with the rest of the junk.'"

Nationalists Sink Red China Boats

TAIPEI (AP) — Nationalist Chinese commandos sank two Red Chinese supply boats and one gunboat and damaged another gunboat in a raid Wednesday night at a Communist naval base on the Min River in Fukien Province, intelligence sources said today.

The sources said all the raiders returned to their base safely. They were only identified as members of the Sea Guerrilla Force of the Anti-Communist National Salvation Corps.

The reports were distributed by the official Central News Agency. They did not disclose the number of guerrillas nor their vessels.

The sources did not say how far the guerrillas penetrated up the Min River, which runs into the Formosa Strait about 125 miles from the Nationalist Chinese island.

It was the first sea battle reported between Nationalist and Red Chinese forces in 3½ years, although a Defense Ministry spokesman called it "guerrilla affairs, not a regular sea battle."

Russia Plans Unmanned Moon Probe

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist sources said Wednesday the Soviet Union plans to launch an unmanned moon probe July 10 that will attempt to scoop up a sample of lunar soil and return it to earth.

The experiment, if successful, would precede the American attempt to land two men on the moon by just six days.

The sources, who have contacts inside the Soviet space program, added that the July 10 launch would be the third attempt to carry out the complex shot. Neither of the two earlier attempts which were part to have blown up before leaving the atmosphere, was announced by Soviet authorities.

The reports of the third attempt were unofficial and confirmation could not be obtained.

The sources had few details on the mechanics of the moon shot, but they said a detachable lunar module would make the descent to the lunar surface, scoop up the soil, then blast off and link up with the main craft for the return trip.

Rolling Stones Star Dies at Age of 26

LONDON (AP) — Brian Jones, 26-year-old pop music idol who rose to stardom as one of Britain's Rolling Stones, died today while taking a midnight swim at his Hartfield home. The tour manager of the singing group said asthma may have contributed to his death.

Tom Keylock said: "It is possible that Brian had an attack of asthma while he was bathing. Jones has suffered from asthma for some years and it was particularly bad when there was a lot of pollen about. There was an asthma inhaler, which Brian used to help him with his breathing, at the side of the swimming pool."

A spokesman at Jones' home said Frank Thorogood, a contractor who is modernizing the house, and a blonde girl friend were at the pool when Jones went for his midnight swim. After about 20 minutes the girl went into the house and Thorogood went for a cigarette.

"When Mr. Thorogood went back to the swimming pool, he saw Brian at the bottom," the spokesman said. Thorogood and the girl dived in and pulled Jones out. The girl attempted mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Thorogood tried artificial respiration.

Jones quit the popular quintet last month, saying he wanted to play his own type music.

"The music of Keith Richard and Mick Jagger has to my mind progressed at a tangent as far as my own tastes are concerned," he had said.

BOYS REVEAL WHAT ATTRACTS THEM MOST ABOUT GIRLS

Dear Helen: In answer to "ABOUT TO CHANGE" who would like to take the initiative in meeting boys, I say—"Congratulations!"

Along with a lot of other guys, I am rather shy about meeting girls at times and think it would be a great help if more girls walked up and said, "Hi, don't you think we ought to know each other?"

Or maybe she wouldn't even have to be that direct. She could start a conversation about almost anything, as long as she is sincere and easy to talk to.

In answer to your other questions:

1. I am most attracted by a girl's overall appearance. She has to be looking to get that first look, but if her general appearance is not neat, (clothing, hair, etc.) she doesn't deserve a second look.

2. I'm turned off by a girl who talks about herself all the time. I'm particularly nauseated by a girl who continually talks about other guys she has dated.

3. There's no sure way to make a boy notice a certain girl, but a friendly smile and "naturalness" usually does the trick.

4. What keeps a guy coming back? Personality. A girl who is friendly, has a good sense of humor, and lets a guy know she is having a good time without falling all over him should have no trouble. Also, she must show some intelligence and not act like a giddy little girl, and she should be sincere. When a gal praises a fellow so much that it is obvious she is trying to flatter him,

she bombs out.—A COLLEGE MAN

Dear Helen: Here's a nother vote for girls who aren't afraid to say "Hi" first. That doesn't mean they have to obviously chase or hang on the horn, but too many girls are so afraid of being "forward" that they act uninterested. So how's a guy to know?—HARRY

Dear Girls Everywhere: The fellas were unanimous in saying they wished girls wouldn't leave ice-breaking entirely to them. So if you see one you like, ti-gress, start purring!—H.

Dear Helen: What attracts me most about a girl is if she acts herself and doesn't put on airs. What I really detest is when she purposely tries to get me jealous by flirting with other boys and ignoring me.

What keeps me coming back is a good disposition, and I'm not demanding.—T.B.

Dear Helen: I like a girl I can talk to about almost anything. Maybe she sometimes doesn't know too much, but if she shows interest and asks intelligent questions it proves she has a mind. I like a girl who isn't afraid of in-depth discussions, and arguments, so I can learn from HER.

Oh sure, I go with the physical type too, the ones who figure action is better than words, but when I marry, believe me, it will be a girl I can talk to!—ROSS

Dear Helen: When I was in high school there was a boy I was very fond of but he didn't know I existed, as I was a freshman and he was a senior. One day I got tired of waiting, so I just walked up to him and started talking.

Well, things turned out real well, as my husband and I have been married four years and we have three children. We wouldn't trade places with anyone!—FIRST DECISION

Pentagon Is Accused by Grape Union

By NEIL GILBRIDE AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO accused the Defense Department today of being "a massive scab and strikebreaker" for continuing to buy millions of pounds of labor-boycotted California table grapes for shipment to Vietnam.

"I doubt that the soldiers are crying for them," said William L. Kircher, chief AFL-CIO organizer and strategist behind the long strike and boycott against grape growers by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Kircher said he believed the Defense Department was bowing to pressure from business groups to more than double its purchases of table grapes this year and boost shipments to Vietnam nearly seven-fold.

"It ill behooves the United States government to, on the one hand pay lip service to the concept of collective bargaining which embraces striking and consumer boycotting—and then to play the role of a massive scab and strikebreaker by upping its consumption of grapes," Kircher said in a recorded radio interview.

The AFL-CIO said the Defense Department's own figures show it more than doubled grape purchases to eight million pounds in the first half of fiscal 1969 and boosted Vietnam shipments from 555,000 pounds in 1968 to 4.1 million pounds this year.

"The United States government—the Defense Department—is buying more grapes today than it has ever bought in its history," Kircher said.

He spoke on a radio program sponsored by the AFL-CIO. The Defense Department said it is not buying more grapes just because there are more available and cheaper because of the labor boycott. Purchases are based on planned menus, cost, nutritional value and perishability, it said in a memorandum.

Extension Economists Are Named

JOANN PHILLIPS

FRANCES KAY CROMWELL

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. — An Extension home economist and an assistant Extension home economist have been named for Lonoke County, C.A. Vines, Director, Agricultural Extension Service, has announced.

Mrs. Joann Phillips has been named Extension home economist effective July 1, and Mrs. Frances Kay Cromwell, assistant Extension home economist, effective July 1, subject to the approval of the President of the University of Arkansas.

Mrs. Phillips is a native of Shreveport, Louisiana. She attended Arkansas Tech at Russellville, two years before transferring to the University of Arkansas where she took her Bachelor of Science degree in home economics. After graduation she taught school two years in Malvern before joining the Extension Service in January, 1955, as Associate Extension Home Economist. She was transferred to Hempstead County and promoted to Extension Home Economist in December, 1959. She resigned in 1961 and has been teaching school. For the past three years she has taught science in the Lonoke public school system.

Mrs. Phillips, who has been active in church and civic affairs in Lonoke, Stuttgart, and Hope, is married to J.D. Phillips who works for the Lonoke Production Credit Association. They have two teen-age sons.

Mrs. Cromwell is a native of Pine Bluff. She attended Henderson State College one year and then transferred to State College of Arkansas at Conway where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in home economics in May of this year. She has received some home economics experience by working summers and during vacation from college in the dietary department of Jefferson Hospital in Pine Bluff.

Mrs. Cromwell is a member of the American Home Economics Association. Her husband is completing work for his degree at Hendrix College in Conway.

In making the two appointments, Vines said that Extension work in Lonoke County was supported jointly by the county, state, and federal governments. Vines expressed his appreciation to County Judge C.H. Benfield for his interest in Extension work and pointed out that the educational program in Lonoke County was cooperative and designed to increase incomes, job opportunities, and raise levels of living.

Fight on for Open Tennis at Wimbledon

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The first battle in the campaign to extend open tennis to the Davis Cup was being fought in London today.

Delegates from the Davis Cup nations were meeting to vote on a proposal by France that the promoter-controlled professional be admitted to the big team tournament.

France has the support of the other three big tennis powers—the United States, Britain and Australia. But most of the smaller countries were reported opposed to the idea, which needs a two-thirds majority to go through.

Even a vote in favor of an open Davis Cup would not be decisive.

Basil Reay, who is secretary of both the Davis Cup and the International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF), said:

"Although the competing nations control the Davis Cup and its rules, in this case they can only make a recommendation to the ILTF."

"When the ILTF meets in Prague July 9, it will decide whether to adopt the proposal for one category of players, with the abolition of the terms professional and amateur."

"Obviously, any decision to run an open Davis Cup would be meaningless if the governing body of world tennis rejects the idea of one category."

Meanwhile, Arthur Ashe, the last surviving American in the Wimbledon men's singles, faced the defending champion, Rod Laver of Australia, in today's semifinals.

The other semifinal was between two Australians, John Newcombe and Tony Roche.

Laver is half-way towards the grand slam—the world's four major tennis titles in one year. He has already won the Australian and French titles and now has Wimbledon and Forest Hills to come. Laver did the Grand Slam in 1962. The only other man to do it was America's Don Budge in 1938.

Wednesday, Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia lost her hopes of pulling off a women's grand slam—a success achieved only by the late Maureen Connolly in 1953.

Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain defeated Mrs. Court 10-12, 6-3, 6-2 in a two-hour semifinal of drama and high quality tennis. Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., slammed Rosemary Casals of San Francisco 6-1, 6-0 in the other semi, a drab and one-sided affair that was all over in 28 minutes.

Jackson Says Home Run Records Safe

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The home run records of Babe Ruth and Roger Maris are safe, Reggie Jackson guarantees it.

"I'm not going to get 60 home runs because I'm not a 60-home run man," Jackson said Wednesday night after belting his 31st, 32nd and 33rd homers in Oakland's 5-0 victory over Seattle.

Some of the figure filberts have other ideas and point out that Jackson's pace is 10 games ahead of Maris, who hit 61 in a 162-game season in 1961, and 23 ahead of Ruth, who walked 60 in a 154-game campaign in 1927, both for the New York Yankees. Wednesday night's was Oakland's 72nd game of the season. "It's nice to be compared with great players like Ruth and Maris, but I don't think I'm ready to be put in their class yet," said the 23-year-old outfielder. "I'm so young. If I have five or six good years back-to-back I might consider myself in their class."

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota topped the Chicago White Sox 4-2, Detroit drubbed Boston 7-0, Washington whipped Cleveland 5-1, the New York Yankees edged Baltimore 3-2 and Kansas City shaded California 1-0.

In National League action, Atlanta clubbed Cincinnati 9-4, Houston clobbered Los Angeles 8-2, San Francisco beat San Diego 6-3, the Chicago Cubs downed Montreal 4-2, the New York Mets outlasted St. Louis 6-4 in 14 innings and Philadelphia bombed Pittsburgh 14-4.

Jackson's explosion was the eighth time this season he has hit more than one homer in a game. The major league record is 11 by Detroit's Hank Greenberg in 1938. Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh set the NL mark of 10 in 1947.

"I only hit three homers in a game once before in organized ball," said Jackson, who is in his second full season in the majors. "That was for Modesto in the California League in 1966. I wasn't consciously trying to hit home runs against Seattle. Once you do that, you try too hard and you don't hit any."

Jackson connected in the first and sixth innings off Marty Pattin and in the eighth against Diego Segui. All three homers came with the bases empty.

The first was a fly ball that barely cleared the fence just inside the right field foul pole some 330 feet away. The second was a towering 425-foot shot over the center field fence and the third was a line drive which just cleared the wall in center, which is 400 feet from home plate.

"The first one was lucky," Jackson said. "The wind blew it out. The second came on a curve ball low and away, not normally a home run pitch, but I hit it good. The third was off Segui's fast ball. I knew he'd throw me his best pitch and I was looking for it. I was fortunate to get my pitches and not foul them off. That's the difference between a good hitter and a bad hitter."

Virtually overlooked was John "Blue Moon" Odom's five-hit performance, which kept the A's three percentage points in front of Minnesota in the AL West. It was the fifth consecutive triumph for Odom, who ran his record to 11-3 and also hit a home run.

Little Rock Girl Posts a Victory

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Janan Trimble of Little Rock defeated Dawn Harrington of Jennings, La., 6-1, 6-4, here Wednesday in the third round of the girls 14 singles division of the Tennessee Valley Invitational tennis tournament.

Herbert Thomas III, Joe Hickey and Mark Trimble, all of Little Rock, were beaten in boys singles matches.

Thomas, however, teamed with Andy Russell of Knoxville, Tenn., to advance to the semifinals of the boys 14 doubles. They beat the third-seeded team of Bill Chesney of Knoxville and Pam Guey of Chattanooga, 7-5, 4-6, 7-5.

gled in two of the Braves' runs, while Orlando Cepeda had a two-run double as Atlanta won its fifth straight.

The St. Louis Cards blew three good scoring chances, then watched as Ken Boswell smacked a two-out RBI single and pitcher Ron Willis gave up a bases-loaded walk in the 14th for the Mets' winning runs.

Big Racing Weekend Starts Friday

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Another big holiday weekend is a hand in thoroughbred horse racing, starting with the Fourth of July on Friday.

And, just like last Decoration Day, some 350,000 bettors are expected to try their luck at picking winners. In the process, they probably will bet around $30 million on Friday alone.

For comparison purposes 353,196 turned out at 18 tracks on Decoration Day, last May 30, and wagered $28,331,514. On July 4 a year ago 19 tracks reported attendance of 346,446 and $27,133,075 in wagers.

The $100,000-added Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct headlines the holiday national card.

Elsewhere there is the $50,000 American Handicap at Hollywood Park, the $50,000 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park, the $40,000 George Brandels Handicap at Ak-Sar-Ben, the $30,000 Schuykill Stakes at Liberty Bell Park, the $25,000 Post Deb Stakes at Monmouth Park, the $20,000 Dover Stakes at Delaware Park and the $20,000 Mayflower Stakes at Suffolk Downs.

A small field is likely for the Suburban in which Claiborne Farm's Dike will try to become one of the few 3-year-olds to win the 1¼ mile test, Dike, third in the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, will carry 114 pounds.

The American Handicap at Hollywood likely will be run in two divisions because of an anticipated entry list of 17. Polesax is the top weight at 120. Cragwood Stable's hawthorn at 118 and J. A. Glusa's Liaison at 114 top the Stars and Stripes probabilities.

Process Shot and Gallant Bloom, two of the leading 3-year-old fillies, are expected to clash in the Post-Deb at Monmouth.

Black Business Has Tough Road to Success

By KEN HARTNETT

Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sometimes James A. Gates Sr. wishes Black Capitalism never had come along.

He could drop in at the lodge or take in a ball game in the days when he eked out a living as an "alley mechanic" working out of a dilapidated garage. Now Gates doesn't have the time.

"The money made me more miserable than I was," said the road-facced Gates, 40, as he sat behind his desk in the bright and modern service station he operates in the St. Louis, Mo., ghetto.

"To be truthful, if I got the $15,000 I asked for I could have gotten things going."

Gates got half that and is now 15 months behind in his payments to the lender, the Small Business Administration.

Gates feels hounded, harassed and misunderstood and is painfully aware that the wolf of liquidation bays at his door.

Gates is one of the thousands of Negroes trying with federal government help to crack through the barriers of custom and prejudice into the largely white world of small business.

Most are making it. Many, like Gates, are not.

In the fiscal year that ended Monday, the SBA upped its National minority loan total from 1,500 to more than 4,000.

Officials say a failure rate of 15 to 20 per cent should be anticipated. The failure rate for standard SBA loans is 2.9 per cent.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald — but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review.

1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

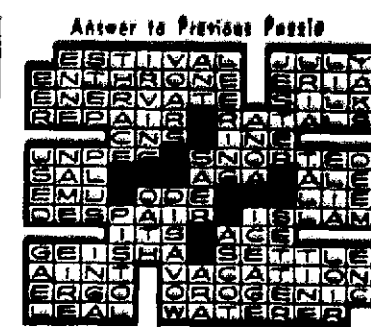

1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Understand and Avoid Hazards in Scuba Diving

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Water sports have become more sophisticated in recent years. Skin diving is great fun if you understand and avoid the hazards. Although some skin divers use no special equipment, they can attain greater depth and stay under water longer if they use a snorkel or a Self-Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus (scuba).

Prerequisites are above-average skill as a surface diver and long-distance swimmer and a preliminary course of training. Use only the best equipment and check it before each dive. Always use the buddy system and have a boat to return to. Be able at all times to get back to your boat fast. Keep track of your depth and how long you have been under water. Observe the rules for gradual decompression to avoid the bends. Plan your dives in advance, including appropriate actions if an emergency should arise.

You should learn first aid and have the necessary first-aid equipment in your boat. If you are using scuba equipment, you should breathe continually—don't hold your breath. On an emergency ascent exhale all the way to the surface. If you are not using scuba, don't hyperventilate before starting your dive and don't overexert. These are some of the elementary rules that will enable you to enjoy a fascinating hobby for many years to come.

Q—What is erythromelalgia or Mitchell's disease? Is there any cure for it?

A—This disease, also called erythromelalgia, is characterized by burning pains in the extremities, especially the feet. The affected parts are red and feel hot. Since there is no specific treatment, aspirin by mouth and cold compresses are used to relieve the symptoms.

Q—What are Equagestic and Diuril given for? Have they any undesirable side effects?

A—Equagestic is a combination of a tranquilizer and two pain killers. In too large a dosage it may cause nausea, drowsiness, dizziness and an itching rash. Diuril is given to combat waterlogging and high blood pressure. It should not be taken by anyone with decreased kidney function or anemia.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The laws of heredity were discovered by four scientists working independently of each other. The World Almanac says. Gregor Mendel an Austrian monk, published his discovery of the basic laws of heredity in 1866, but they went unnoticed until 1900 when, within three months, three biologists—the Dutchman De Vries, the German Correns and the Austrian Tschermak—made Mendel's discovery again.

It has been estimated that by 1970 there will be about 699,000 employed registered nurses in the United States.

Q—What is erythromelalgia or Mitchell's disease? Is there any cure for it?

A—This disease, also called erythromelalgia, is characterized by burning pains in the extremities, especially the feet. The affected parts are red and feel hot. Since there is no specific treatment, aspirin by mouth and cold compresses are used to relieve the symptoms.

Q—What are Equagestic and Diuril given for? Have they any undesirable side effects?

A—Equagestic is a combination of a tranquilizer and two pain killers. In too large a dosage it may cause nausea, drowsiness, dizziness and an itching rash. Diuril is given to combat waterlogging and high blood pressure. It should not be taken by anyone with decreased kidney function or anemia.

Charm of New England Is Found in Craft Fairs

By JIM CROSSLEY

Arts and crafts fairs have as much flavor of New England as Emerald Jones' apple butter.

Emerald, at 82, was still making apple butter in Wethersfield, Conn. Each year in September he could be found at the "Olde Brick Church Fair," minding the same iron kettle his great grandfather did, stirring and cooking outside the Wethersfield Congregational Church all day long until the spicy apple butter was thickened and ready to be sold late in the afternoon.

Events like apple butter fests and arts and crafts fairs make New England fun during the vacation season.

It's more like a three-ring circus every year. This is the fourth. Displays fill the corridors and rooms of the Mount Anthony Union High School and spill outside on station wagons, pick-up trucks and vans in what is called the tailgate section.

There are thousands of out-of-state visitors who wouldn't miss this "national open" of craft expositions. It was moved to Bennington because the community is close to airports and their car rental agencies in Albany and Glens Falls, N.Y.

The wares run from utilitarian to exotic. Cast aluminum mirrors are one of the popular decorative items. Ceramics and stoneware include such items as candleholders, garden lamps and dinnerware for preparing or serving food. For those who love the art of weaving there are unique ponchos, bags and even handwoven prayer shawls as well as rugs for use or for hanging.

Block prints and pottery for home decoration abound. Glassware for use or display in the home is there and there is an abundance of jewelry in metals, plastic and even leather. There are unusual belts, sandals, gloves and bags.

That's only part. Uncovering unusual articles is a big part of the plot.

Arthur Sennett, one exhibitor, chases wild diggers. By trailing them and sampling the clay they strike, he frequently finds rare, subtly colored materials for use in his ceramics creations.

Bennington, the southwestern gateway to Vermont's resortland, is a good place to start a vacation. A list of facilities and information on reservations can be obtained from the Greater Bennington Association, 215 South St., Bennington, Vt. 05201, or Vermont Development Dept., Montpelier, Vt. 05602.

There's lots to see in Bennington. Certainly not to be missed by while visiting is the Bennington Museum with an overwhelming display of Grand a Moses paintings and the world's finest collection of American blown and pressed glass.

Boundary Stones

The first official federal activity in Washington, D.C., was the placing of 40 boundary stones, one mile apart, marking off the "10-mile-square" which was to become the capital of the United States. These stones were set in place 1791-92 and of the original 40, 36 are still to be found.

HAVE FAITH
GOD

Nearly two centuries ago in the fateful course of human events Liberty was born. With justifiable pride we declared our Independence... Liberty and the rights of all men. The spiritual aspect of the proposition of freedom, equality and justice for all was fundamental in the development of these new ideas. Liberty loving fathers, possessed of unyielding faith and vital religious convictions supplied the genius. Before a government could be founded on the brotherhood of man... there had to be the Fatherhood of God. Then let us preserve this freedom through eternal vigilance, unceasing prayer and unflinching faith. Independence!!!... the Fourth of July. Let us ever remember the source of our freedom... The Book. Secret Peace Two Junk Dealers Find Picasso Paintings That Are Worth $720,000

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern's secret meeting with top Communist negotiators has come under attack from a fellow Democrat who questioned whether it is in the nation's interest "to meet with the enemy in time of war."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia raised the issue after McGovern, long a critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam, disclosed he had met for 10 hours May 23 in Paris with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives.

Answering questions about the propriety of the meeting, McGovern said: "These are considerations went through my mind for many, many months."

But he said he decided to go ahead with the meeting after conferring with the State Department and chief U.S. peace negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

"I wouldn't be able to rest if I thought anything I'd done had cost the life of a single American boy or prolonged the war," the South Dakota Democrat said in defending his action.

McGovern told of the secret meeting Wednesday in a Senate speech, and he elaborated in a press briefing and a series of exchanges with fellow senators during and after his formal talk.

He said he arranged the session to get a better understanding of why the war and the killing goes on. The senator emphasized he only asked questions and made clear to the representatives that the U.S. was not interested in a "pastor's."

Faith In Our Youth

A new type of youth group is roaming the streets of Ann Arbor, Michigan. It calls itself the Giltner Gang. Its members describe themselves as "guerrillas for good." As the Altoona, Pennsylvania, Mirror observes, "... the Giltners roam Ann Arbor streets at night doing some rather odd things for a youth gang. On one recent night they painted a bridge, which had been covered with obscenities. On another, they boarded up an abandoned house, which had been a dangerous but popular rendezvous for neighborhood children. They made a number of adults ashamed of themselves by filling downtown planters, which had remained barren of flowers because of a squabble over which group was responsible for them."

An assistant professor at the University of Michigan is frequently consulted by the gang for advice. He concedes that some of their activities are "extralegal." To this, the Mirror concludes, "Some will undoubtedly say any extralegal approach smacks of the vigilantes of old. But who will argue that the Giltners are not providing a community service no one else seems capable of giving?" Perhaps there's ground for retaining a little faith in humanity after all.

Proliferation Among Verbose

Why do people use "utilize" when they ought to use "use"? Ah, pomposity!

The writers of federalese, conspicuously guilty of that particular verbal offense among many others, must be acknowledged to have quite a bit of company these days. Our attention has been called to the fact that the pastor of one Texas church lives in a "pastorium."

Water Short, Mayor Asks Cooperation

Mayor Frank Douglas has asked that all waters users curtail all outside use of water until the water department has a chance to build up some reserve, which the dept. has estimated will take two days. He said that the situation was critical, and that if users didn't voluntarily cooperate, such curtailment would have to be enforced. The supply was so low all day Wednesday that the city's fire protection was in danger.

Due to a large main break Tuesday night the system began the day Wednesday without any reserve. They were able to maintain pressure until about 6 p.m. when the heavy use almost drained the system. Some areas were without any pressure for over two hours. Estimate of the loss Tuesday night was nearly a million gallons. Shifting soil, due to dry weather, has been responsible for five major main breaks during the past two weeks. Extremely dry weather taxes the system almost to its limits and serious main breaks at such times creates serious conditions.

Mayor Douglas said the Police have been asked to check for outdoor use during this emergency, and ask the people to cooperate, since it imperative that some water reserve for fire protection.

U.S. Eyeing Cutback in Fighting as Sign Enemy Slowing War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is looking for some sign that the recent sharp drop in combat and the reported cutback in North Vietnamese infiltration into the South mean Hanoi is deliberately slowing down the war.

But officials are not sure they will get such an indication. Secretary of State William P. Rogers suggests these developments may be due to some "change of plans" by the enemy command. And he has held open the possibility they could lead to increased U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam when President Nixon reviews his plans next month.

But Rogers also told a news conference Wednesday the decline in enemy activities could be due to manpower supply problems or to a regrouping of forces for new attacks.

Other officials say privately a See U.S. EYEING (on page two)

Casualties in War Lowest in 7 Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. headquarters reported the lowest American death toll in seven weeks today—241 Americans killed in action in Vietnam last week ending at midnight Saturday.

A few hours before the casualty report was issued U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers said in Washington he was told by Defense Secretary Melvin Laird: "Last week we had the lowest level in combat activity in Vietnam in a long time—possibly during the whole war."

The 241 toll was six fewer than the preceding week. The wounded total was 1,674, compared to 1,686 Americans wounded in the week before.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported government losses last week were 446 men killed and 804 wounded, as compared with 474 killed and 1,496 wounded in the previous week.

The two commands said 3,333 enemy were reported killed last week, a marked drop from 3,988 slain in the previous seven-day reporting period.

The latest casualty counts raised to 36,866 the number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961. Another 236,563 Americans have been wounded in that period.

Enemy to Release 3, Allow Gifts

By GEORGE ESSEY
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam announced today it will release three American prisoners of war and allow other American POWs to receive gifts from their families in observance of Independence Day.

Brief broadcasts by Radio Hanoi monitored in Tokyo and Hong Kong did not specifically say the prisoners would be released July 4. They also did not say where the men would be freed, nor were they identified.

But Tokyo monitors said Radio Hanoi spoke of "Americans captured in North Vietnam," indicating they were U.S. pilots, who had been shot down.

North Vietnam last freed three U.S. pilots Aug. 2 in Vientiane, Laos. In the past North Vietnam has allowed American POWs to receive gifts on special holidays like Christmas.

The announcement came as U.S. military men were trying to determine just how many North Vietnamese had infiltrated into South Vietnam or withdrawn.

American officers said three North Vietnamese regiments, the 36th, 138th and 27th, have pulled back across the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone into North Vietnam. But they said the Communist Command still has three regiments in the northern portion of South Vietnam, and speculated the pullback, may simply mean new regiments will replace them.

Four enemy regiments also have pulled back from the Central Highlands around Ben Het, perhaps to get replacements after the recent battle there, the officers said.

Along the southern half of the Cambodian border, northwest of Saigon, a regiment of the North Vietnamese 7th Division reportedly has pulled back west of Loc Ninh. But spokesmen noted units of the 7th, 1st and 9th North Vietnamese divisions have been continually maneuvering in the critical 3rd Corps area.

In one 10-day period, said the spokesmen, that same enemy regiment operating west of Loc Ninh went back and forth across the border three times. Some said it appeared to be feeling for a soft spot in allied positions.

A similar situation was reported west of Tay Ninh City, where the enemy's 9th Division has been crossing and recrossing the border for several months.

In the Mekong Delta far to the south, U.S. intelligence indicated North Vietnam's old 273rd Regiment has just returned to what is known as the Seven Mountain area after months of absence.

The latest military intelligence indicates 10,000 North Vietnamese troops infiltrated down the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos and Cambodia last month. Spokesmen said about 63,000 enemy have come down the trail since the first of the year.

This appeared to conflict with a statement in Washington by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who said "we know pretty conclusively" that the infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into South Vietnam has declined.

"I'm not disagreeing with anything Rogers said," said one U.S. source. "Washington is talking about the number of enemy troops being put into the pipeline, wherever the hell that starts. We are talking about what is actually coming into the country. This is possibly the difference in what Rogers is talking about."

Nearly two centuries ago in the fateful course of human events Liberty was born. With justifiable pride we declared our Independence... Liberty and the rights of all men. The spiritual aspect of the proposition of freedom, equality and justice for all was fundamental in the development of these new ideas. Liberty loving fathers, possessed of unyielding faith and vital religious convictions supplied the genius. Before a government could be founded on the brotherhood of man... there had to be the Fatherhood of God. Then let us preserve this freedom through eternal vigilance, unceasing prayer and unfailing faith. Independence!!!... the Fourth of July. Let us ever remember the source of our freedom... The Book. Dave Hill Is Bubbling With Confidence

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Dangerous Dave Hill, a walking advertisement for the benefits of smoking, set out in the first round of the $125,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament today, bubbling with confidence, his game in shape and armed with two packs of cigarettes.

"I'm playing just great," the thin, dark bad-boy of the tour said. "I've got my putting stroke down just great, and I'm hitting the ball real good."

Part of it is a little rest and a return to smoking.

Hill, whose outspoken pre-nouncements have led him to occasional suspensions by the PGA, has played only once—in the U.S. Open—since winning the Memphis Open five weeks ago.

"I'd lost 25 pounds, from 165 to 140, since the first of the year," Dave said, "and I wanted to get a check up and find out was causing it."

"It was nerves."

So he took a rest and increased his smoking.

"It settles me down a lot," said Hill, a native of Jackson, Mich., now playing out of Evergreen, Colo. "It's made a lot of difference."

"I wasn't smoking that much for a while, but I got to thinking, 'I'm not trying to live to be 85, I'm trying to play golf.'"

"So now I bring two packs to the course with me every day and I smoke one cigarette every two holes, it helps."

Hill, 32, a 12-year pro who has won $73,725 this year—his best yet—and has been in the top 10 in seven tournaments. He is No. 9 on the money-winning list.

And, with a slimmed down field in this tournament—only nine of the top 25 in the money-winning list are competing, with most of the rest in England for next week's British Open—he ranks as one of the men to beat.

Oil Losses in Vietnam Are Unaccountable

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Tens of millions of gallons of petroleum shipped to U.S. fighting forces in Vietnam could not be accounted for in 1967 because of what Pentagon auditors branded a "total breakdown" of a complex, unmanageable accounting system.

In case after case, a nine-man Joint Petroleum Technical Assistance Team concluded it was impossible to learn with certainty whether any of thousands of petroleum shipments inside Vietnam ever reached their destinations.

This was true, it said, due to confusion, negligence and the stresses of war and because receipts, reports and other vital documents were either ignored or not filled out correctly.

In one instance, the team reported, the Air Force could not account for $21 million in petroleum products the team blamed the loss on incomplete terminal reporting, saying no records exist as to whom the fuels were delivered.

Negro Sees Some Good From Meet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Rev. Cato Brooks, co-chairman of the Committee for Peaceful Coexistence, says "some fruitful things" came out of a Wednesday night meeting among his group, a biracial committee and merchants in Forrest City.

The Rev. Mr. Brooks said, however, that his committee would continue picketing downtown Forrest City businesses and go ahead with plans for a "poor people's" march from Forrest City to Little Rock until "we can really see that they mean to do what they said."

He said he came away from the meeting "very optimistic." Spokesmen for the merchants seemed "willing to work along with us," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Brooks' committee presented a number of grievances at the meeting, attended by about 60 spectators in Forrest City.

"for the first time I think we really had a chance to discuss them (grievances) fully so everyone would have a chance to understand," the Rev. Mr. Brooks said. "It seemed as though most of the people on the biracial committee was open-minded and would try to do everything they could."

But, he said, if there is no real change in the situation in three or four weeks the march to Little Rock will be held. The Rev. Mr. Brooks' committee is to meet Monday night to set a tentative date for the march. The committee hopes that the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, could be present for the march.

The Rev. Mr. Brooks said the biracial committee planned to hold another meeting "and at this time we'll know exactly where we are."

In related developments:
—Ozell Sutton of Little Rock, director of the Governor's Council on Human Relations, said racial tension at Forrest City was "explosive." He said problems could spread if not resolved soon.
—The Rev. J. F. Cooley, whose dismissal as a teacher at an all-Negro Forrest City school is said to have triggered a March 20 student riot, called for Negroes and whites in Forrest City to "shake hands as individuals who must depend on each other to survive Forrest City's greatest crisis."

—Dr. Norman Saliba, a leader of the John Birch Society in Forrest City, called for riot training of the city's 15-man police force.

Sutton said he had not determined what his office should do to help the situation. He said that sometime "a third party can only muddy the situation or take himself out of the game before it really starts."

But he said Forrest City's Negroes and whites should give "priority consideration over all other matters" to a settlement. He said he believed the key to tranquility "is equal opportunity and assurance of equal justice under the law."

OPEN LINE is maintained by this member of a Marine communications battalion which provides telephone service for U.S., Korean and Free World forces operating in Vietnam's northernmost tactical zone.

The Rev. Mr. Cooley, a former Presbyterian minister in Forrest City now on the staff of Shorter College in North Little Rock, urged all parties to sit down and talk in an effort to reach an understanding. He said enough "inflammatory statements" had been made by both sides.

In a prepared statement, the Rev. Mr. Cooley offered 11 suggestions to "erase Forrest City's racial problems."

They included rezoning the city so that Negroes could be elected to the City Council, School Board and other boards and agencies in the city and in St. Francis County.

He suggested an education campaign "to bring a better understanding between the black and white man," creation of a rumor center and of a special commission to speed up recreational development and job opportunities for Negroes, seminars by lawyers to explain Arkansas laws and appointment of Negroes as election judges and clerks.

The Rev. Mr. Cooley also urged that all Negroes who come to Forrest City not be branded "criminals, agitators and troublemakers."

He also suggested that a public hearing be held on his dismissal from the Lincoln Junior High School.

Saliba, in asking for riot training and riot equipment for police, said: "Forrest City is in the midst of turmoil, for criminals and thugs have come and attacked our local merchants. The Police Department needs all our help at this time."

He also called on the City Council to give $100-across-the-board raises to police officers and for establishment of a firing range on land he said he would provide.

Howard Judge to Continue Lease Policy

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Howard County Judge Ed Reese testified Wednesday that he would continue to authorize the use of county road equipment for private projects as long as it was for the good of the county.

Reese made the statement

Wednesday during a hearing in Chancery Court on a suit charging that Reese had permitted the illegal use of the equipment.

Hix Smith of Nashville, and his sons, filed the suit. The Smiths own earth moving equipment and a concrete mixing firm. The suit contends that the use of county equipment on private projects is unconstitutional.

Chancellor Roy Dunn of Booneville, who took the case under advisement after 4½ hours of testimony, said the case would be decided on two points of law—whether a county judge can legally use county equipment on an "off-county project" and whether the county court can legally authorize such work.

The suit asks that Reese, who has been in office six months, be enjoined from using county equipment of private projects. The plaintiffs said the equipment had been used to haul gravel for driveways and other projects.

The defense said the county had charged for all of the work and it didn't hamper work on the county roads. Seven persons testified that they had received gravel and had paid the county.

Reese produced a list of property owners showing the mileage traveled by the trucks, the number of yards of gravel delivered and the charges. However, on cross examination by Charles Garner of Fort Smith, Reese indicated that the names of at least six property owners were not on the list.

The defense witnesses said that in their opinion, county roads were in as good condition as in years past.
